

INVISIO LE KIT - V50/X5

BRAND: INVISIO

This INVISIO LE Kit features the V50 control unit, partnered with the X5 in-ear headset.

The INVISIO V50 control unit is designed for soldiers, commanders and law enforcement officers that require an internal power supply and two communication devices, such as team radio, combat net radio or vehicle intercom system. The control unit can handle multiple talk-groups and can also power from any of the connected communication devices. Lightweight and small, the control unit offers state of the art situational awareness and is fully compatible with other INVISIO systems.

The INVISIO X5 headset is designed exclusively for INVISIO's range of advanced control units and is fundamental to the INVISIO hearing protection system. It is a dual sided in-ear hearing protection headset with state of the art external microphones for natural hear-thru and six sizes of exchangeable foam plugs for market leading hearing protection and comfort. The INVISIO X5 is the in-ear headset of choice for future soldier programs today and officers maintaining public order. The headset is fully compatible with other INVISIO systems.

The kit is available in TAN or BLACK.
